
Learning Hub: Telemental Health: The Basics

Telemental Health: The Basics was created specifically for clinicians who are looking to provide long-distance mental health care through the use of technology. This course will dive into the basics of telemental health care, describing what this modality means and providing helpful tips for practicing effective therapy through the phone or computer. Also discussed are the legal and ethical considerations involved in telemental health care. This course is an incredibly practical and thorough introduction into the increasingly effective practice of long-distance therapy.

Counselors completing this course receive 1.00 continuing education hours.

CE Credit Calculation

APA, CAMFT, & ASWB Credit Calculation

Continuing education credits for psychologists, social workers, and marriage and family therapists are calculated by averaging pilot test times, rounded down to the nearest quarter hour. This allows for inclusion of interactive elements (e.g., assessments) and learner variance. However, regardless of pilot test times, the number of continuing education credits will never exceed 2 hours more than the combined video and voiceover length.

Average Pilot Test Length: 1 hour 7 minutes

NBCC Credit Calculation

Continuing education hours for counselors are calculated by summing the length of all course videos and voiceover, rounded up to the nearest quarter hour. This does NOT include time taken to complete interactive elements of the course.

Combined Video and Voiceover Length: 55 minutes

Timed Course Outline

Since the course is interactive and each learner will proceed at their own pace, timing is not exact. These are approximations based on average pre/post-test time of pilot testers as well as the run-time of course videos and voiceover. This course does not have to be completed in one session.

Keita Franklin, PhD, LCSW (Course Author)

Co-Director, Columbia Lighthouse Project; Chief Clinical Officer, Psych Hub

Dr. Keita M. Franklin is the Co-Director of the Columbia Lighthouse Project and Psych Hub's Chief Clinical Officer. A nationally-recognized expert, Dr. Franklin ensures all clinical content is on the cutting edge of the intersection between healthcare and information technology. Key to Psych Hub's goal of revolutionizing how mental health care education and training are delivered, Dr. Franklin leads the esteemed Psych Hub clinical team, ensuring all Psych Hub products are evidence-based and trauma-informed.

With over 25 years of progressively responsible experience, Dr. Franklin is spearheading efforts to improve mental health literacy across the Nation by championing the development of specialized evidence-based training for providers thereby improving mental health care outcomes for at-risk population groups. A public health expert and transformational leader, Dr. Franklin has spent her career driving complex organizational change in the federal sector, always improving the systems that provide care for our Nation's military, family members, and veteran populations.

Before joining Psych Hub, Dr. Franklin served as a senior executive at both the Department of Veteran Affairs and the Department of Defense. In these roles, Dr. Franklin served as the principal advisor to Department leadership for all matters on suicide prevention, and she is widely credited with leading a transformative, enterprise-wide shift from a crisis intervention posture to an upstream, broad public policy approach focused on continuous surveillance and early prevention. Dr. Franklin was also responsible for leading a multi-disciplined team of experts in advancing evidence-based prevention practices for over 20 million Veterans and reaching our Nation's heroes wherever they live, work, thrive, and receive care. A poised and articulate communicator of strategic messaging, Dr. Franklin has been frequently asked to testify before committees in both the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate and led numerous caucus roundtable discussions with members of Congress.

While serving as a senior executive within the Department of Defense, Dr. Franklin was responsible for suicide prevention policy, programs, and oversight. During her tenure, she conducted a first-of-its-kind, comprehensive program review and authored new DoD policy directives and instructions, optimizing higher headquarter guidance for all military service branches. She also chaired several DoD senior leader committees charged with developing solutions for vexing mental health issues impacting our service members and their families.

Adept at building partnerships and coalitions, Dr. Franklin was singularly responsible for bolstering relationships with both the private and public sector in the advancement of key suicide prevention initiatives. An experienced manager of large programs, she proved critical during congressional-level advocacy for budget and programming activities while simultaneously directing a multi-million dollar research and evaluation program. Her efforts resulted in high-quality service delivery for active duty, reserve, and National Guard members and their families.

Dr. Franklin is a licensed social worker with a specialization in children and families. She earned a Ph.D. in social work with specialized training and certifications from the Center for Advancement of Research Methods and Analysis (CARMA). Dr. Franklin began her career in child welfare and has dedicated much of her work to researching the impact of wartime trauma and post-traumatic stress on families. She serves on several national panels, including the National Action Alliance for Suicide Prevention. Dr. Franklin has received numerous federal and civilian awards for her efforts leading military, family, mental health, and suicide prevention programs. Dr. Franklin has published work in the areas of military social work, child abuse, domestic violence, suicide prevention, and substance misuse. She has served as an adjunct professor in the graduate programs at Virginia Commonwealth University and George Mason University. Dr. Franklin holds certificates from Harvard Kennedy School Executive Education on “Leading Large Organizational Change” and Women in Leadership” as well as the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill Kenan-Flagler Business School course on “Executive Leadership.”
